Letter from Waimea, Hawaii-

The Humakua people are waking up to the fact, that they need a new representative for that district, but it will be a hard battle, as the whole power of the Government in that district is used for the purpose of heoping the old one in. He is an healthy in that district, and God grant that he will probably be some time to come, before he will be enabled to resume active duty.

The above in Kobeda for an independent man will be alim. It was try and run, as they are now taiking of doing. The Government candidate is a slow going old fellow, who can hold up his hand and set and do nothing also:

From Hile I hear that the chances of two independents getting in, are good, although the Sheriff and Deputy are the Government men and hold the effices of Assessor and Collector. If no bell six was thought by many resident that the fowl raids to fear there may be, there is little doubt that the Independents will carry the day.

Arguments in Favor of Prohibition.

A correspondent in the Euleria, under date of November 19th, says: "I venture to predict that "Note Bene" will find on Monday next, in the police resports of this city, an array of arguments in favor of produbition to the liquor traffic that will need consetting more formidable than blank cartridges fired off from borrowed fowa guns be reported. Looking at the police reports for Trasday one finds the nances of twenty-eight persons up for drunkenness, two of them being women, and all but two of them thawainas. The community might congratulate useff these twenty-eight were the only arguments the day farmished for suppressing the sale of infortients. But I venture to say if one could have gone into the various work shops of Humbalin, on Tuesday he would have found the arguments very largely increased by a general "up side downness" of things in some of them, resulting from a free use of whiskey in keeping the King's birth day. One could imagine that after such a day of dissipation as last Monday was it would be a good time to take a vote for local option. Some heads of brainess, irritated by the absence of employees would inco be in a spirit to gleclare for the doing away with the cale of liquor within reach of their men at least. Some of the arguments in favor of prohibition to be seen on the attests in Tuesday maring were as impressive as that monthing a police report. Driving down Swann street, the writer was two white women un a light phacton, with the little child of one of them sitting between them, driving up the valley, both women cridently under the influence of tiquor within treach of their witer was two white women un a hight phacton, with the little child of one of them sitting between them, driving up the valley, both women cridently under the influence of tiquor in the water of the arguments in favor of a squeen on Fort street I saw two young men, who should be in the very prime of strongth. THE WEATHER.

THE WOATHER.

THE WOATHER.

The woather during the past two weeks has been decidedly rough on this side of the island. In the papers just to hand we read of it blowing "great guns," and of steamers being compelled to return to Honolulu without discharging their freight. On Saturday last the steamer C. B. Releop put in an appearance at the Kilama landing with her wonted regularity. It looked doubtful to these on about or not, but all doubt was dispersed in five minutes after the vessel was anchored. A bout was lowered and mains and passengers were safely landed: Purser Ross alone getting his usual wetting. At the special request and risk of the plantation manager, other boad load of lime was sent out shore and safely landed. The steamer proceeds on her way to Hanslei and remained in that sang harbor until Monday morning when the anchor was weighed and the vessel headed for Kinuas. The weather had improved somewhat, but very slightly. Work was however, commenced, and under the personal direction of Capain Macauley, continued throughout the day. The trash feeder is a combersome article to handle in a boat when the sea runs mountains high, so to speat. The operation was watched with sanitely from the landing until the boat rounded the pier and an amphibious kanaka secured a hold of the invaring line that was thrown, but falled to reach the boat. During the whole of this operation Capatain Macauley was in the secur. "All's well that end well." The day's work was done without any loss of annuage and prove beyond a don't that landing freight at Kilanes, since the completion of the new wilarf, can be safely effected in almost any weather.

Mr. Henderson, the local representative of the Union Company, has received a telegram from the head office, instructing him that the "Mararoa" and "Alameda" are to carry the first mails under the new contract. Mesers, Brown, Campbell & "o., agents for the Pacific Mail Company, have less received advices that the Company a steamers and a direct service from Sydney to San Franceso next month, calling at Honoline, but omitting under the strength of the Company as a standard and the strength of the Company as a standard and the strength of the Company as a standard and the strength of the Company as a standard and the strength of the Company as a standard and the strength of the Company as a standard and the strength of the company as a standard and the strength of the Company as a standard and the strength of the company as a standard and the strength of the company as a standard and the strength of the company as a standard and the strength of the company as a standard and the strength of the company as a standard and the strength of th esy minority.

But perhaps the island mails are to be abandoned toplains. If he insists that the mail carriers

This would farnish a regular semi-weekly mail from Honoluli for Kenlis, Kapas, Libns, Koloa, Elcele, Waimea and Kekaha, instead of only for Kilanea and Hanalei. Here is a golder piperfunity for Agricola to show public spirit by accepting this ameniment to his agitation. And the segmention costs him nothing. Rusarous.
